SISTER JAN

Sister Jan Syme

Lead me, worship

Preparation

Workshops on Childrens Evangelism

Sister Jan Syme commenced her ministry at St. John's Launceston in February 1984 as a newly Commissioned Church Army Officer. Her Job Description set her the task of training parishioners for their role in ministry. The Rector and his Vestry were concerned that too much responsibility rested on too few and some areas of ministry were increasingly dependent on outsiders. February 1984 was the commencement of a bad year because of tensions and disagreements in the Parish, not the most ideal way to get launched. Yet Sister Jan has weathered the storm, even if the storm has in some ways weathered her. She has proved the Lord to be her 'sufficiency' and strength.

Jan has worked hard and her work has been of excellent quality. She will leave behind a small army of committed people who are now providing the ministry in many areas of parish outreach and evangelism. Two people will teach 'Bethel' next year in the congregation stage, one has already been involved and established in this ministry in 1986. The mid-year school vacations have both become an occasion for outreach ministry to children. On the initiative of the Rector, Sister Jan has involved over sixty parishioners in 'Klomp Club' (Kids Love Our Mission Program), and the September program was completely lead and run by parishioners. Much time has been spent with Sunday School Teachers, Youth Group and Children's ministry workers, encouraging them, broadening their vision and skill in program planning, content, variety and resources. Jan has worked with the Rector in helping to run Parish and Confirmation Camps, both of which have involved leadership participation by members of the congregation. Jan has provided strategic back-up to the Rector with the Confirmation Classes and his deliberate objective to win Candidates for Christ, with some exciting results. Praise the Lord!

Sister Jan has also been involved regularly with one of the 'Double F' groups (Faith and Fellowship); has been Convenor of the Parish Evangelism Committee; assisted in the Hospital Chaplaincy ministry; taught weekly classes of Religious Education in one Primary School; and co-ordinated the Parish Education Program. In the latter area a wide range of short courses were introduced in 1986 which have proved popular with the congregation and made a positive impact on the Parish. These courses included 'Bethel', 'Caring', 'Dynamic Christian Living', 'Cults', 'Prayer', and 'Friendship Evangelism'.

Sister Jan has been involved in the leadership of worship, including the experience of preaching occasionally. Pastoral work has been mainly limited to the immediate areas of concern but of necessity extended further where the need arose. Her contribution to the life of the Parish has been tremendous. However, most praise and thanks will come from the many individuals who have grown and matured because of the experience, training and self-confidence gained through the leadership and example of Sister Jan.

Editor,
This Report is from the Rev. E. Horth, Rector of St. John's, Launceston, Tasmania, during Sister Syme's ministry in the Parish. Sister Jan Syme is now Parish Evangelist at All Souls' Anglican Church, Leichhardt, Sydney, N.S.W.

EDITORIAL What No Prayers?

Wal Spencer

No Christian can doubt the power of prayer! I know it's moved mountains in my life. But — just how can you effectively motivate and guide people in their daily prayer life?

Last year in the Pioneer we tried three different ways of presenting to our readers and supporters a Church Army Daily Prayer Guide. In the first issue of our magazine in 1986 we used the centrefold two pages. It was a 31 Day Prayer Cycle listing all Church Army Officers in Australia and other people and organisations etc. in Australia and overseas. Editorially and artistically it split the magazine in two and I think to many readers it was probably just a big list of names and places that tended to confuse rather than guide.

Next issue we tried a seven day Prayer Guide. We left off some of the overseas prayer requests which didn't seem too relevant to our readers. Also we cut down on details on some other requests. It was featured on one page only. The result was that some people felt left out and others felt that we, because of the number of daily prayer requests, asked people to do too much per day.

Last issue in 1986 we tried a separate Prayer Guide used as an insert in the Magazine. It was on coloured paper to make it stand out. It was a two-sided single leaf listing all Church Army Officers, Personnel and Associates etc. in Australia and many other Associates and organisations overseas. On it was a message from Rev. David Reay, the Church Army College Chaplain. This told of the relevance of prayer, of its practicality and power in our lives. On this Prayer Guide we weren't too specific as to what day to pray for which Officer etc.

Where do we go from here?

In this issue you will notice there is no Prayer Guide. It does not mean we have abandoned the idea; as the Editor of the Pioneer, I need your help to find the best way forward.

What are the problems involved; let me list them briefly.

As our Society grows in personnel and ministry it is difficult to fairly list every request on a 30 or 31 day Prayer Cycle. It's obviously even harder to do in 7 days.

The cost effectiveness of an annual multi-page Prayer Guide with lots of photos to identify prayer requests, personnel etc. must be questioned. Finally, how many people use Prayer Guides and when and how?

If you are like me, you don't like Questionnaires, so I've avoided this approach! All I ask is that you think about it, and most of all pray about it. Then share your ideas with me. Please write to me, Wal Spencer, Church Army, P. O. Box 107, Frenchs Forest N.S.W., 2086, or ring me on (02) 451-8395 or (02) 451-0928. If I'm out, talk to someone else at the Church Army Centre. They'll gladly listen to what ideas you have to share.

Whatever your response is to this article, please don't stop praying for Church Army and its ministries. We need your prayerful support more than ever!
